ADVOCACY

Enhancing Self-Advocacy and Public Policy Work People On the Go of Maryland (POG)

POG, a group of advocates with developmental disabilities, is supported by the Council and the Maryland Center for Developmental Disabilities (MCDD). The group advocates for people with developmental disabilities and educates people with developmental disabilities through leadership trainings and mentoring opportunities. The group is also a driving force behind legislative changes in the state to ensure people with disabilities have equal rights and opportunities.

Professional Development and Coaching: Cultivating Youth Leadership and Self-Advocacy Tilson & Diaz Solutions, Inc.

The purpose of this initiative is to increase the capacity of local school system professionals to ensure active student engagement in the transition process and to promote the self-advocacy skills of transition age youth that will be using the newly developed Digital Transition Portfolio. Tilson & Diaz Solutions is working with three pilot school systems – Anne Arundel, Caroline, and Carroll Counties – so that transition professionals in those counties will be able to train and mentor their colleagues in their counties and statewide.

Employment Publication: Success Stories

In-house initiative

The Council is developing a publication that highlights the employment success stories of people with developmental disabilities, sharing the perspectives of people with disabilities, families, direct support professionals, and employers. By addressing topics such as safety, dignity of risk, and opportunities in rural areas, the publication will allay fears and negative perceptions and help to improve attitudes about employment and meaningful opportunities for people with developmental disabilities throughout the entire state.

Employment Certification Trainings

MD Works, Inc.

The Council has partnered with MD Works to co-sponsor ACRE Approved Basic Community Employment Certification Trainings for direct support professionals to assist people with disabilities in their job development and discovery. A total of 50 professionals, mostly in rural areas of the state, will be certified. The training focuses on increasing and enhancing development of the Employment First Initiative key competencies for direct support staff.

COMMUNITY SUPPORTS

My Support

My Support, Inc.

This initiative assists with start-up costs for MySupport to become operational in Maryland. MySupport is an online provider directory platform that people with disabilities and their families can use to find support staff.

RAISING EXPECTATIONS
